      Nagpur has never failed to astonish tourists with its magnificence and richness! Nagpur is India's third-largest city, located in Maharashtra's central region. It is also renowned as Maharashtra's winter capital, attracting the majority of visitors in the second half of the year.

      Plan your vacation to Nagpur between October and March. The weather is quite good, with temperatures dropping to 10 degrees Celsius. Winters in Nagpur are often moderate and pleasant, making it one of the best seasons to enjoy the city's beautiful sights.

      Visit the major tourist sites in Nagpur to enjoy the magnificent Nagpur grandeur and beautiful environment sights of Nagpur scenery. It is an integral piece of Maharashtra's Vidarbha region, with a rich Maratha heritage at its heart.
      In and around Nagpur, you'll be able to see a fantastic blend of rural and urban culture and lifestyle. Plan a fun family trip here and enjoy the lesser-known sights in the Nagpur region.

      Nagpur Metro has added a addtional beauty to the city

        The Deekshabhoomi, a Buddhist holy monument, is one of India's most well-known Buddhist pilgrimage centres.
        The Deekshabhoomi, a significant tourist destination, was created where Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar, the father of the
        Indian constitution, and his 60,000 supporters converted to Buddhism on October 14, 1956.

        Every year, countless Buddhist devotees visit this site, with the number increasing dramatically on Mass
        Conversion
        Ceremony Day, also known as Dhamma Chakra Parivartan Din. Deekshabhoomi is Asia's largest stupa, and it attracts
        Buddhists from all over the world.

        The phrases' Deeksha' and 'Bhoomi' were combined to form the word 'Deekshabhoomi.' This signifies that Deekshabhoomi is the place where Buddhists are ordained. Such a large-scale conversion in one location was  unprecedented in human history. Ram Dham is a lovely landscape located only two kilometres from Deekshabhoomi.

     Ambazari Lake is among Nagpur's 11 lakes and is one of the largest. This lake is the primary water supply for government officials and other influential individuals. In addition, the Nag River originates in this lake.

        The garden next to Ambazari Lake, one of the major tourist attractions of Nagpur, has been transformed into a more
        memorable destination to visit, with a musical fountain, amusement activities, and several electric rides.
        Ambazari
        Lake also has boating facilities and a specially planned walking route. These amenities make Ambazari Lake a must-,
        see destination and it has thus become a popular tourist destination throughout the holiday season.

        The water from Ambazari Lake is distributed through clay pipes constructed in 1870 under the reign of Bhosle. It was
        built to provide water to the entire city of Nagpur. It was given the name Ambazari because mango trees flank
        it.

        Tourists can enjoy boating, games, and rides and visit several pubs and restaurants, one of which is the Dwelling
        bar and Restaurants. The garden, which spans 25 acres and is next to the lake, is the icing on the cake. If you are
        nature
        enthusiast, you will not want to miss the abundance of flora and fauna found here.

        This fort is one of Nagpur's most popular attractions and an excellent place to visit. The fort is perched on a hill, and it was here that the Battle of Sitabuldi took place in 1817. In the year 1702, Raja Bhakth Buland Sahin constructed
        the fort. It was the Third Anglo-Maratha War battleground between the kings of Nagpur and the British.

        #Trivia: It is one of Maharashtra's oldest forts.

        You will find a chamber where Mahatma Gandhi was imprisoned in the fort's showpiece. In addition, there is a military memorial honouring soldiers who died in the conflict. It is presently only open to the public on

    <img src="images/FutalaLake.jpg" width="640" height="320">

        Futala Lake is one of the eleven lovely and scenic lakes in Nagpur. It is also recognized as the Telankhedi Lake,
        and it's
        located on Nagpur's western outskirts, some 6 kilometres from the city centre.

        Futala Lake, a 200-year-old lake with a surface area of 60 acres, was established by Raja Bhosle. It's the perfect place
        for you and your spouse to get away from the hustle and bustle of city life. Even a simple walk along the path might
        be enthralling while watching the sunset. Evenings at Futala Lake with your loved one become even more memorable
        with the addition of three fountains.

        Two 15-foot-high coloured fountains and one 100-foot-high fountain are other prominent tourist attractions in the area.
        The lake's southern shore is an immersion ghat, where visitors can take a dip in the lagoon's
        icy waters.

        In the area, there are also several vendors selling mouth-watering local foods. Places along the lake's shores are also
        worth seeing, and many people visit these hotels for dinner after enjoying time with family and friends. You can also
        enjoy some corn while riding in a tonga (horse carriage). A romantic evening at one of the lakefront restaurants serves
        as an ideal date night for most couples.

AMBAZARI LAKE AND GARDEN NAGPUR (ENTRY FEE, TIMINGS, BEST TIME TO VISIT, IMAGES & LOCATION)

Ambazari Lake is among Nagpur's 11 lakes and is one of the largest. This lake is the primary water supply for government officials and other influential individuals. In addition, the Nag River originates in this lake.

The garden next to Ambazari Lake, one of the major tourist attractions of Nagpur, has been transformed into a more memorable destination to visit, with a musical fountain, amusement activities, and several electric rides. Ambazari Lake also has boating facilities and a specially planned walking route. These amenities make Ambazari Lake a must-, see destination and it has thus become a popular tourist destination throughout the holiday season.

The water from Ambazari Lake is distributed through clay pipes constructed in 1870 under the reign of Bhosle. It was built to provide water to the entire city of Nagpur. It was given the name Ambazari because mango trees flank it.

Tourists can enjoy boating, games, and rides and visit several pubs and restaurants, one of which is the Dwelling bar and Restaurants. The garden, which spans 25 acres and is next to the lake, is the icing on the cake. If you are a nature enthusiast, you will not want to miss the abundance of flora and fauna found here.

The Raman Science Centre and Planetarium Complex is an interactive science centre that hosts science exhibitions and fosters scientific attitudes and the expansion of science and technology in many industries and people's livelihoods. It is a popular tourist destination in Nagpur, attracting visitors from all over the world.

It is named after the Nobel Prize-winning physician- Chandrasekhar Venkata Raman. It's a place where kids can play, and grown-ups can learn something new while brushing up their scientific expertise. Every day, four planetarium shows and four 3-D shows are held here.

There is a prehistoric animal park where light and sound shows are held three days a week (Wednesday, Friday, and Sunday) after sunset.

A fun scientific display is also available, including exhibits such as a virtual book, floor piano, plasma globe, and more. The centre now has three interactive galleries, including a 133-seat planetarium, an ancient animal park, and various other activities. In addition, it gives out the Green Finger Award in partnership with the local NGO Hirwai to raise awareness among school-aged children.

HOME PLACES TO VISIT

SITABULDI FORT NAGPUR (ENTRY FEE, TIMINGS, HISTORY, BUILT BY, IMAGES & LOCATION)

This fort is one of Nagpur's most popular attractions and an excellent place to visit. The fort is perched on a hill, and it was here that the Battle of Sitabuldi took place in 1817. In the year 1702, Raja Bhakth Buland Sahin constructed the fort. It was the Third Anglo-Maratha War battleground between the kings of Nagpur and the British.

#Trivia: It is one of Maharashtra's oldest forts.

You will find a chamber where Mahatma Gandhi was imprisoned in the fort's showpiece. In addition, there is a military memorial honouring soldiers who died in the conflict. It is presently only open to the public on national holidays such as Independence Day and Republic Day. Weapons and ammunition used by historical kings and emperors can also be examined here. There are also exclusive items from the Indian Army on display.
